

Welcome, dear Colleagues and Friends!

Allow me to warmly thank the organizers of this important Conference for giving me the privilege of welcoming and addressing You all. For me it is an honor and a pleasure.

This conference is an outstanding possibility to meet prominent scientist in the field of magnetism from all around the world, to discuss important topics and to broaden Your horizon, to start a fruitful global collaboration and just to enjoy Yourself in a romantic city of Venice.

The doors of the conference are open for everybody – mature and pronounced scientist, business delegates, senior experts and young researches. Coming from the different parts of the world, various institutions and backgrounds, we're all united within same interest in magnetism and magnetic materials. There'll be no conference without You, Participants, so let us share our passion, listen with an open mind and push the horizons of the field. Especially in such a gorgeous and magical city like Venice, whose spectacular sceneries have inspired many creative minds.

It'll be my great pleasure to see You all at the International Magnetism and Magnetic Materials Conference 2019 and hope You'll have an amazing time here!

With cordial greetings,
